THE AGONY OVER.

The long and bitterly-fought over Rate Bill has at last passed the Senate, but in such "questionable shape" that the people at large fail to welcome it as a relief measure.

Better for the reputation of the President that it had never been born, or, better still, if Mr. Roosevelt had been satisfied to be executive and not assay both executive and legislative functions.

The anti-pass feature was made a part of the new law; but as the Senate is made up in large part of lawyers, they always having an "eye to business," shielded "me and mine" against the demands of the scalper or the regular ticket seller. Let the rest of the world pay as it rides, but fee-grabbers and favorites must go free, and yet the people are silly enough to keep such men in office.

The proposition to prevent the running of Sunday trains was literally laughed out of court. The farmer shall not plow on Sunday, but the railroads are given permission to run rough shod over the law of God and of man. Now and then a San Francisco shock strikes us, and for the time we realize that there is a God and a tremble before him, but reaction follows and we go on sinning as before. "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God."

Few informed men expected the Senate to pass a law without loopholes.

Verily, our last state is no better than our first.

"My Kingdom Is Not of This World."

We deplore the fact that the churches seem disposed to clash over the Jamestown Exposition and are actually mixed up with the Eastern hospital investigation. This is altogether too bad. It would be right hard to have at Jamestown other than an Episcopal Church under conditions suggested, and as there is nothing denominational about the historic spot any longer this would never do. Save the "Tower," but don't place a church steeple instead. Bishop Randolph is a coltured Christian gentleman, admired and loved of all who know him, but in his official capacity he only represents one branch of the Christian church. And what, pray, can the Buxton pariah at Williamsburg have to do with the conduct of affairs at the Eastern hospital, a State institution having to do with the bodies and not the souls of unfortunate men and women? The Church has its sphere, God-given and God-appointed, and when it leaves that it sets sail on a stormy sea and without chart or compass. It is a good time in which to emphasize the words of the Saviour, "My kingdom is not of this world."

The Nottoway county Democrats are opposed to follow the pernicious example of the Norfolk county Democrats, and this is all wrong. Get together, brethren, and stay together, for there is work enough just ahead for all of us. No time for foolishness.

It costs 16 per cent more to live now-a-days than it did a few years ago, and yet the TIMES is still just one dollar a year. "Cheap enough." Our only hope is in a largely increased circulation. Send in YOUR dollar and don't wait for the neighbor.

South Carolina indorses the course of Senator Tillman in the recent "strenuous" past, and we believe the country at large does. He is rugged but right, harsh at times but always honest, caustic but courageous, plucky and people's man all the time.

The latest photo of Mr. Cleveland represents him as an old man. The Madam looks "fair and forty." She is still the queen of American matrons. She could have been regnant in social whirl, but she preferred to be mother at home.

Preachers of the present day sometimes get mad even with a brother. The greatest preacher the world ever knew and long ago, "if it be possible live peaceably with all men." It seems that it isn't always just "possible."

When Republicans fall out the Democrats ought to get their dues, tout it, if the Democrats will not fall out among themselves. In that case they are not entitled to win.

Poor folks can now eat berries and wear rosebuds. "All things come to him who waits"—and works.

The "Ike" thundered from the White House is something new under the sun.

The Tillman-Roosevelt combine has dissolved. Ex-Senator Chandler will administer the assets.

Shame upon Richmond Democrats that they can't conduct a clean primary. To bad, brothers, altogether too bad.

Uneasy must rest the head of the President who recklessly handles the "lies." The "muck rake" is inoffensive in contrast.

Vice President, Fairbanks actually "warmed up" in presence of that great Methodist Conference in Birmingham. Icicles couldn't live under such conditions.

"When you walk towards the sun then all your shadows are behind you." And this only means that if you will look on the bright side of life all its shadows will flee away.

Congress would do well to pass the Jamestown Exposition bill and adjourn. We do not believe it is in any frame of mind for enacting wise or useful legislation.

Tennessee has sent into the Senate a glittering, dancing, illuminating sunbeam.—News-Leader.

"Turn on the light" is just the thing to do.

"Verily the man who laughs is blessed by the gods. He is sure of appreciation, sure of enjoyment, sure of friends—as long as he laughs.

You can no more beat "Bob" Taylor in Tennessee than you can beat "Frank" Cunningham in Richmond, "Music has charms," not only for the "savage" but the sovereign voter as well.

Senator Tillman has "writ" on piece and read it to the Senate. He prefers striking out from the shoulder, but whether he deliberates or dashes off what he has to say he generally hits something.

Somebody has given out the statement that the average annual income of our lawyers amounts to $2,000, and this will mortify a number of the craft as they reflect that they live so far below the average mark.

The banks of the country have gotten to be active advertisers, and that's just as it should be. Your money should circulate and to insure this it should first be deposited in the banks.

It seems impossible now-a-days to frame a law in State or National law-making bodies that isn't promptly declared to be unconstitutional. The lawyers are simply spreading a feast of good things.

The appointment of ex-Governor Montague by the President as a member of the Pan-American Council of Nations is gratifying to Mr. Montague's friends. The position pays about $6,000, and I guess without saying so that he will measure up to all of the responsibilities of the position.

A president of a small bank in Newport News misappropriates a large amount of the funds of the bank and shoots himself rather than face his accusers. The directors and cashier of the bank were apparently as much shocked by the revelation of the defalcation as were its innocent depositors, and the ques tion is, why did they not know what was being done in the conduct of the affairs of the bank? They should have known.

A brilliant writer of the present day, as he looks into the future, hopes for the better day when "riches will not be wrung from destitution, nor palaces built on poverty, nor charities founded on starvation—when we shall not use men to make money, but shall use money to make men, and when it will be impossible for a few to get money without working, while the many work without getting any." And to this we all say, "Amen."

West Buckingham.

We are having quite a dry spell for this time of the year.

The farmers are delayed in preparing their tobacco land and the plants are large enough to plant.

The frost of last week did right much damage to the gardens. I think most of the fruit was killed before the last frost.

The wheat crop is looking well, but needs rain.

Mr. Roland Wright accidentally let fire get out and it burned about one hundred and fifty panels of fence for him, besides destroying a quantity of timber on other lands.

Nellie and Herman Moore spent several days in the Hill City this week shopping.

Miss Mollie Lee, of Roanoke, spent last week with her friend, Miss Edna Carter, and they both left on Thursday for Roanoke.

Nellie Moore and Annie Nuckols expect to attend the commencement at Fork Union Academy, where they were once students. I wish for them a pleasant time.

Mr. Roland Wright made a flying trip to Lynchburg and purchased a nice horse.

Several parties from the West have been in here looking at lands, but no sales have been made yet. The lands of our county are rapidly advancing in price.

There is talk of having a railroad to Buckingham Courthouse, which, if carried through, will add considerably to its value.

I will say to the Andersonville and Glenfall correspondents that if they put off their visit to West Buckingham until the protracted meeting I fear the chicks will be too cough by that time to fry so I would advise you to attend to the matter at once.

Mr. Carlington Golladay has removed his sawmill from Andersonville and is now located near Wright's Precinct.

I can't understand how it is that he county levy has been raised, it is said, for road purposes, yet our roads are in a worse condition and seem to receive no attention. I would hate for Mr. Dan Keller to pass over them, as I am sure he would go home perfectly rat-fil with the condition of his roads. A friend of mine was over on the James River and wanted to get to my house. A gentleman told him to get in that gullie and not get out of it and it would take him to my house.

Wanted—To buy 1,000 lambs at the cash market price.

A Dinner at the Unveiling.

A large mass meeting of citizens at the Court House on Monday May 14th, determined to have a dinner at the unveiling ceremonies on June 9th.

About one o'clock on Monday June 14th, a large mass meeting assembled in the Court House for the purpose of considering plans for the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the Confederate Monument, which will take place on Saturday June 9th. The meeting was largely attended from every section of the county.

Mr. H. Clay Shearer was elected Chairman. It was resolved that it was the sense of the meeting, that there should be a free dinner to be furnished by the citizens of every section of the county, and served on the Court House ground on the day of the unveiling. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the platform and seats for the ground, and a third committee was appointed on invitations.

Mr. T. J. Stratton was appointed Chairman of the committee on invitations, with authority to name the members of his committee.

Mr. S. L. Ferguson was appointed Chairman of the committee on arrangements for the platform and seats, with authority to name the members of his committee.

After some discussion a resolution was offered by Hon. D. Flood, and unanimously adopted, providing for the appointment of Rev. Hugh C. Smith as Chairman of the dinner committee, which in addition to Mr. Smith was to consist of two gentleman and one lady from each church in the county. As the unveiling of this monument is a purely patriotic movement, it was deemed best to have this portion of the arrangement for the services on the 9th, of June organized through the various churches of the county. THE CREDIT HOUSES

Said there was not enough people who could afford to pay cash to keep us going. WELL. We will admit for a time that the high prices credit houses were getting caused a scarcity of cash, but our practice, "We save you something on everything," has broken the credit habit, caused more ready money and we are going very nicely, thank you.
